

'Twas the week of Christmas, and the State Deputy ran away;
Off to Florida he went to play!
He left the Membership Director a list of chores:
Clean his house, wash his car, and get members galore.

The house and car will not happen, but the members we will do,
And all because of the help of elves just like you.
The best part—and it's awfully funny—
Is that it is going to cost him money!

If we are at 50 percent by the end of this year,
Then there will be plenty of cheer.
Five lucky ones will win tickets to the State Convention dinner,
And there will be one MVP Super-Winner!
